Charm of Studying in Japan

Advantages of studying in Japan include low expenses, good teaching environment, high-quality teaching resources, good career prospect, perfect medical insurance system, rich scholarship system. Are these advantages enough to attract you to study in Japan?

The education in Japanese universities is in first-class level in the world.

2013-2014 Times Higher Education University Impact Rankings: The University of Tokyo ranked 23 in the world and ranked 1 in Asia, and Japan had 5 universities in top 200 and ranked No. 1 in Asia. 2013-2014 QS World University Rankings: Japan had 9 universities in Top 200, ranked No. 1 in Asia. Times Higher Education Alma Mater Index (Global Executives) 2013: The University of Tokyo ranked No. 2, only second to Harvard University, and Keio University ranked No.9.

Good Career Prospect

The intensified aging and declining birthrate phenomena in Japan have brought the shortage of labor force, greatly increasing the chance for overseas students working in Japan after graduation. It is not a very difficult thing for overseas students who wish to work and live in Japan for a long time to obtain Japanese "Permanent Resident Card".

Perfect Medical Insurance System

All overseas students can participate in national health insurance which requires students to pay RMB 1,500 or so each year and bear only 30% of medical expenses. If students apply for subsidy of overseas students, they only bear 6% of medical expenses at maximum. The system provides health guarantee for overseas students in the period of studying in Japan.

Scholarship System

Japan has various kinds of scholarships and most of overseas students can apply the scholarships. The overseas students who are admitted into national universities and public universities can enjoy free higher education through fee remission and scholarship, and the overseas students who are admitted into first-class private universities for Master's degree generally only require to bear the tuition in ¥450,000 to ¥600,000 each year.
